MEDIA GUIDELINES & INFORMATION

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

OVERVIEW

During the season, updated team information is available by contacting Shock Director of Public Relations Paul Hickey, at 248-377-0132 (Home/Cell, 248-330-5472) or Media Relations Assistant Cletus Lewis, Jr. at 248-371-2083. The Shock organization welcomes media coverage and will make every effort to accommodate any related needs.

CREDENTIALS

Official Shock media passes (of WNBA passes when appropriate) are required for admission to Shock games and for admission to media facilities inside The Palace. These passes are working passes and are intended for the use of working media members only. For credential information, please contact Paul Hickey or Cletus Lewis, Jr. REQUESTS MUST BE MADE PRIOR TO NOON ON GAME DAY. Please make certain all requests for credentials are confirmed by the Public Relations Department prior to arriving at the arena. Credentials may be obtained 2-7 hours prior to each game at the press gate, located outside the loading dock media entrance in the southeast corner of the arena. Credentials must be visibly worn at all times and are non-transferable.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Accredited photographers will be permitted courtside in The Palace and will be stationed in one of two quadrants: either the west side of the basket stanchion on the north and of the floor or the east side of the basket stanchion on the north end of the floor. ABSOLUTELY NO TRIPODS ALLOWED. Photographers must be seated stationary, at least 4 feet behind the baseline at all times. Photographers are not permitted on the court at any time during the game and cannot shoot from public walkways or gathering areas. Orders for strobe lights or credentials should be requested through the Shock PR Office. Photo credentials will be issued in the same manner as other credentials, although requests should be submitted by the photo editor. Official Shock photographers' passes allow admission to The Palace, the media room and to the locker rooms. The recommended film speed under all conditions is ASA 400. Recommended films are: Kodak Tri-X (for black and white), Kodacolor 400 (for color negative film for prints) and Ektachrome 400 (for color transparency slide film). When photographing events on the floor (lighting tends to be less in the stands), the recommended exposure is: 1/125 of a second at F 5.6 for evening or nighttime events. Equipment not needed during the game must be stored off court. One additional camera can be stored either beside or directly behind the photographer. Credentials for cinematographers should be requested through the Shock PR Office and are available on a game-by-game basis. With credentials, cinematographers will be allowed courtside.

RUBBER LENS SHADES

In order to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are now required for all still photographers, broadcasters, news and entertainment video and film crews who are authorized to shoot WNBA game action. Any additional light sources must be either removed or covered with bubble wrap. Rubber lens covers are available by contacting: Bruce A. Kwitny, Robert's Distributors, Inc., 255 S. Meridian Street, Indianapolis, IN 46225, (800) 726-5544

PARKING

Members of the media who have been issued credentials will be granted parking privileges in press parking area, located on the south side of the arena. Entrance to the arena parking lot for media members will be through the southern-most entrance off Lapeer Road.

MEDIA WORKROOM

The media workroom is located on the west side of the building directly across from the Shock locker room. The room is open 2-7 hours prior to tip-off and features comfortable work areas for your convenience. Telephone and fax service is available, as well as game notes, media guides, statistics, post-game quotes and out-of-town scores. A meal and beverages are also provided for working media members, and admission is by official Shock passes. Press credentials are required for admission into the media room. Should you need any additional assistance or service, please do not hesitate to ask Paul Hickey or Cletus Lewis, Jr.

PRE- AND POST-GAME INTERVIEWS

In accordance with WNBA policy, both the Shock and visiting locker rooms will be open to accredited media members for a 45 minute period prior to each game (6:00-6:45 for a 7:30 p.m. game) and 10 minutes following the conclusion of each game. It is recommended that any interview lasting longer than five minutes in duration be arranged in advance through the Shock PR department (any live television pre- or post-game interviews should also be arranged in advance through the PR department). ONLY working media members with valid credentials will be admitted to the locker room. ABSOLUTELY NO AUTOGRAPHS ALLOWED DURING MEDIA ACCESS PERIOD.

INTERVIEW ROOM

Detroit Shock Head Coach Bill Laimbeer will meet the media in the West hospitality room, down the hall from the Shock locker room, approximately 10 minutes after the conclusion of each game. The Shock's locker room will be open to the media immediately after Laimbeer's post-game press conference.

GAME NOTES, STATISTICS & STATISTICIANS

Game notes and statistics are available in the Shock media room 2-7 hours prior to each game. Statistics are distributed to the working media following each half. Post-game quotes and notes are distributed as quickly as possible following the conclusion of each game. Local statisticians are available to assist visiting television and radio broadcasters and can be arranged by contacting the Shock Public Relations Department several days in advance. Once a request is made, the statisticians must be compensated whether they are used or not.

FAX SERVICE

The Shock will provide complementary fax service to members of the working media following each game.

AUTOGRAPHS

SEEKING AUTOGRAPHS OR SOUVENIR ITEMS FROM PLAYERS OR COACHES IS STRICTLY PROHIBITED AND SUBJECT TO FORFEITURE OF CREDENTIAL.

PRESS ROW

Seating at the Shock courtside press row is absolutely limited to media persons covering that particular game. Space is by reservation prior to noon of game day. Others will be accommodated in the press overflow area on a space-available basis.

RADIO

Fox Sports Radio 1310 AM The X features all 34 regular-season games of the WNBA's Detroit Shock during the 2003 WNBA season. Play-by-play duties for PSR 1310 AM The X are handled by "The Voice" Matt Shepard. Matt Dery will handle radio play-by-play responsibilities when Shepard moves over to Shock Television.

TELEVISION

Seven games will be televised nationally on ABC, ESPN2, & Oxygen. Six games will be televised locally (5 on Fox Sports Net, 1 on Comcast). Matt Shepard will handle play-by-play duties and JoAnne P. McCallie will handle color commentary.

PRACTICE POLICY

All Shock practices and shoot-arounds during the 2003 WNBA season will be open to the media from start to finish. Players and coaches will be available for interviews following each practice session. Please contact Paul Hickey or Cletus Lewis, Jr. in the Shock Public Relations Office for further information.

LEADERSHIP

Recognized as one of the most successful owners in the National Basketball Association, Detroit Pistons Managing Partner William Davidson can be credited for a majority of the success the organization now enjoys. Detroit's 1989 and 1990 World Championships can be directly attributed to Davidson, the club's majority owner since 1974, and under his direction, the Pistons have been considered one of the league's elite franchises for more than a decade and his young Shock franchise is positioned for long-term success.

The Shock joined the Washington Mystics as the first two expansion teams in the WNBA in 1998 and the team was an immediate success in the upstart league, finishing with a 17-13 record in the Eastern Conference in their inaugural season. The Shock also made the WNBA playoffs in only their second season. The future of the young, talented Shock team is bright under the direction of former Pistons "Bad Boy" Bill Laimbeer. The 2003 season was a banner year for the Shock as they recorded a league-best 25-9 record and were crowned WNBA Champions by defeating the Los Angeles Sparks 2-1 in the WNBA Finals. The Shock set a WNBA attendance record (22,076) in Game 3 of the WNBA Finals and was the first team since 1890 to go from the worst team in a professional sports league to the best team.

The Pistons and Davidson's Palace Sports and Entertainment organization are moving into the future with innovative ideas and a plan for progress. The additions of the Detroit Shock of the WNBA to Palace Sports and Entertainment and the Detroit Fury of the Arena Football League represent his commitment toward the sports fan in Detroit. Both teams compete in competitive leagues that are among the hottest and fastest-rising in America. The Fury has earned two playoff berths (2003, 2001) during the club's three-year history.

Davidson became one of just a few multi-sport, major players in 1999, when he, along with Palace Sports and Entertainment partners the late David Hermelin and the late Robert Sosnick, purchased the Tampa Bay Lightning of the National Hockey League. Davidson intends to duplicate the success of the Pistons and their home, The Palace of Auburn Hills, in Tampa, where the Lightning play in the St. Pete Times Forum, one of the United States' finest new venues.

With the busiest amphitheater in the country, DTE Music Theatre, purchased in 1990, Palace Sports and Entertainment now has the ability to bring the best in summer entertainment to its clientele. In 1988-89, the Pistons began play in The Palace, a state-of-the-art arena built with Davidson's financial support; a facility, which when combined with the Pistons, forms the foundation of his entertainment business. The company also added management of the Meadow Brook Music Festival in the summer of 1994, further developing the entertainment division of Palace Sports and Entertainment.

The Pistons have played in the postseason in 13 of the past 18 years, including five of the past seven seasons. Davidson acquired the Detroit Pistons in 1974 from the late Fred Zollner, the man who founded the team in Fort Wayne, Indiana in the 1940s. Zollner later moved the franchise to Detroit before the 1957-58 season.

Interested in a wide variety of sports, Davidson is one of the most knowledgeable heads of a NBA franchise. He can usually be found sitting courtside at all Pistons home games, and has studied many players and coaches in the league and is able to make some very astute observations.

William Davidson Managing Partner

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

Davidson's athletic history dates back many years and has continued alongside his business career. He was a high school and college trackman and played football in the Navy during World War II. Davidson was an inaugural inductee into the Jewish Sports Hall of Fame.

The Pistons' majority owner likes success and has known it in his business interests. That's why now, the success of the Detroit Pistons comes as no surprise to those who are aware of Davidson's ability to manage people. His secret is simple: Hire competent managers and place the responsibility on them.

Educated in Business Law, Davidson received a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Michigan and earned a Juris Doctor's Degree from Wayne State University.

After three years, Davidson gave up his law practice to take over a wholesale drug company. He rescued it from bankruptcy and turned it around in three years. After this success, he did the same with a surgical supply company. The next step was to take the Guardian Glass Company, the family business, pay off all debts and head it into the profitable direction the company now enjoys. Today, Guardian Industries remains the flagship of his corporate interests. Its world headquarters are located on the same property as The Palace and the Pistons practice facility in Auburn Hills, Michigan.

Davidson's previous track record has paved the way for the Pistons, The Palace and DTE Music Theatre. His formula for success, which turned the Pistons around and made The Palace one of the top arenas in the world, carries over into the DTE Music Theatre, now considered one of the top amphitheatres in the country.

Davidson's management talents are continually on display in NBA circles, where he served as Chairman of the Board of Governors and has been active on several committees, including the one which selected former NBA Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien in 1975.

Davidson's involvement in the Detroit community is well documented. In 1997 he was honored for his lifelong philanthropic efforts, locally, nationally and internationally, by the Council of Michigan Foundations. The same year, he was listed in a New York Times article as one of America's most generous donors. Davidson was also one of the "founding fathers" who originated the Pistons/Palace Foundation, a charitable vehicle that has donated more than $8 million dollars in cash and merchandise since 1989. In January, 1995 the foundation worked in conjunction with the City of Detroit's Parks and Recreation Department to establish the Partnership to Adopt and Renovate Parks for Kids (PARK) Program. The program provides for restoration of Detroit parks, basketball courts, baseball diamonds, running tracks and playground equipment.

In 1992, he donated $30 million to his alma mater, the University of Michigan's School of Business Administration. The grant to establish the William Davidson Institute will provide assistance in a special program to help develop market economies throughout the world. He has also endorsed the William Davidson Graduate School of Jewish Education at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York, and the American Technion Society to establish the world's first educational institution entirely dedicated to the international management of technology-based companies at the Technion-Israel Institute of Technology.

The Detroit Pistons ownership group includes Legal Counsel Oscar Feldman, and Advisory Board Members Warren Coville, Milt Dresner, Bud Gerson, Dorothy Gerson, Miriam Mondry, Eugene Mondry, Ann Newman, Herb Tyner and William Wetsman.

Davidson and his wife, Karen, currently reside in Bloomfield Hills. He has two children, Ethan and Marla.

Tom Wilson President and CEO

Entering his 7th season as president of the Detroit Shock and 15th as president of Palace Sports and Entertainment, Inc., Tom Wilson ensures stability within the organization as it continues along its progressive pace. During Wilson's 24-year tenure as the team's top business executive, the Pistons have evolved into one of the best-marketed and most highly-valued teams in professional sports. Wilson has also recently made key moves that have significantly improved the Shock both on and off the floor. A re-commitment to the franchise in October, 2003 and the hiring of former Detroit Pistons "Bad Boy" Bill Laimbeer as Head Coach/Director of Player Personnel in late June, 2002 resulted in a worst-to-first turnaround. Wilson made the call to relieve Greg Williams of his duties on June 19, 2002 after the team got off to an 0-10 start. The Shock won eight of their last 16 games that year and continued the pace in 2003 by winning the Eastern Conference regular season title and capturing Detroit's first WNBA Playoff berth since 1999.

In 1998, Wilson was responsible for bringing PS&E and the state of Michigan it's only women's professional sports franchise, the WNBA's Detroit Shock. Wilson's efforts were showcased immediately as the 1998 expansion Shock posted the highest winning percentage ever (17-13, .567) for a major American professional sports league expansion team (including WNBA/NBA, MLB, NFL, NHL). The Shock continued to impress during its sophomore season, finishing with the Eastern Conference's #2 seed, becoming the first expansion team ever to qualify for the WNBA playoffs.

Elevating Wilson to the presidency in 1992, Managing Partner William Davidson stressed the importance of building a structure within the organization that will have a long-term effect.

Since joining the Pistons in 1977, Wilson has handled all business aspects of not only the Detroit Pistons, but also of Palace Sports and Entertainment, which includes The Palace of Auburn Hills, DTE Music Theatre, Detroit Shock and Detroit Fury. He was named Employee of the Year for 1990 by Guardian Industries, the Pistons' and The Palace's parent company. The award marked the first time Guardian Industries gave the honor to an employee outside of its direct glass manufacturing and fabrication divisions.

The Palace was designed largely around Wilson's input and he was responsible for staffing and developing organizational philosophies of the arena. Wilson's ability to create a family atmosphere among his staff and guests have produced entertainment at its best. The latest addition to that ongoing philosophy is The Covisint Club, which opened in October 2001, and Traverse Bay Entertainment Suite Level, which opened in September 2002, offering fans additional entertainment opportunities before and after every Palace event.

Under his direction, The Palace has earned the distinction of winning Performance magazine's prestigious Best New Venue award (1988) and the magazine has also awarded The Palace its prestigious Arena of the Year accolade eight times. The Palace was named Arena of the Year by Pollstar after receiving that publication's Best New Concert Venue honors for 1988, Wilson's direction was instrumental in the acquisition and renovation of DTE Music Theatre as well, and he remains actively involved in the operational phase and the ongoing improvement of the facility.

DTE Music Theatre has been named the nation's busiest, top-grossing or highest attended outdoor venue by Amusement Business in each of its 13 summers under Wilson's guidance. It has also been nominated Amphitheatre of the Year in each of the 13 years of Palace Sports and Entertainment ownership. In 1994 Palace Sports and Entertainment assumed management of Meadow Brook Music Festival on the grounds of Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan.

As executive administrator of Palace Sports and Entertainment, Wilson is ultimately responsible for the day-to-day operations of its sales, advertising, marketing and broadcasting departments. Wilson directed the company's purchase of the National Hockey League's Tampa Bay Lightning along with the leasehold rights to its arena, the Ice Palace. He now serves as Chief Executive Officer and Governor of the hockey team in addition to his role with the Pistons.

Under Wilson's guidance, the Detroit Shock of the Women's National Basketball Association was added to Palace Sports and Entertainment in the summer of 1998 and the Detroit Fury of the Arena Football League was added in the summer of 2000. The Shock made the WNBA playoffs in 1999, just their second season in operation. The Fury earned a playoff berth during its inaugural season.

A native Detroit, Wilson joined the Pistons in 1978 as Sales Director and was promoted to Chief Executive Officer shortly thereafter. He graduated from Cass Technical High School and received a Bachelor's of business administration from Wayne State University. Upon graduation, Wilson worked for the Los Angeles Lakers, the Los Angeles Kings, and the Forum.

Wilson serves on the William Beaumont Hospital Board of Trustees and was named the 1994 Executive of the Year by the Oakland Executives Association. He is also active in the Boy Scouts of America and serves on the Board of Directors for Boy's Hope and CATCH. In 2002, he received Ernst & Young's Master Entrepreneur Award for the state of Michigan and in 2003 he received Michigan Sports Hall of Fame's Gerald R. Ford Sportsman of the Year Award for contributions to the community. Wilson was also instrumental in the development and implementation of the Pistons/Palace Foundation that has provided more than $20 million in grants and donations to deserving organizations and individuals throughout the state.

Wilson and his wife, Linda, reside in Oakland Township with daughter, Brooke, and son Kevin.

Bill Laimbeer's name sparks one thing in the collective mind of the Detroit community - the desire to win and achieve success in whatever he is involved with. As the leader of the defending WNBA Champions, he enters the 2004 season with nothing but a repeat performance on his mind.

Laimbeer - 2003 WNBA Coach of the Year - now has the highest winning percentage of any coach in Shock history. He led Detroit to the most wins and best winning percentage of any Eastern Conference team in the history of the WNBA this season (.735, 25-9, previous best was Cleveland in 2001, 22-10, .687). Under his guidance, the team also made the biggest improvement in the win column of any WNBA team in history (+16). Laimbeer was not only instrumental in leading the Shock to the 2003 WNBA Championship, but he also made the personnel decisions that gave the Shock 2003 WNBA Rookie of the Year Cheryl Ford, 2003 WNBA Finals MVP Ruth Riley and veteran scoring threat Merlakia Jones. He also recently aquired Chandi Jones and Iciss Tillis in the 2004 WNBA Draft.

Laimbeer was named head coach of the Detroit Shock June 19th, 10 games into the 2002 WNBA season. Laimbeer, the third head coach in the Shock's six-year history, inherited an 0-10 team and guided the them to a strong 8-7 finish to close out the 2002 WNBA campaign. Detroit improved in many statistical categories due to Laimbeer's hard-nosed approach and uncanny ability to gain the instant respect of his players. After taking the helm, the Shock's rebounding average improved from 27.8 rpg to 36.4.rpg and their point production jumped from 64.4 ppg to 66.8 ppg. Detroit also took more high percentage shots as their three-point attempts went down from 17.4 to 8.6 per game. Laimbeer also pushed the team to play more aggressive on the offensive end, improving free throw opportunities to 22.2 attempts per game in their last 22 games compared to 16.3 in their first 10 contests. Laimbeer oversees Detroit's basketball staff, its roster development and all player acquisitions, while also coaching the team on the floor. Laimbeer joined the Shock prior to the '02 season as a special consultant, assisting the Shock organization in marketing and ticket sales, as well as providing an experienced sounding board for the coaching staff. As a recognized name in the Detroit area, Laimbeer provides instant credibility to every Shock initiative, on and off the court. He brings hands-on NBA experience, from both a basketball and a business perspective.

He began his NBA career after being drafted in the third round (65th Overall) by Cleveland in the 1979 draft. He was traded from Cleveland to Detroit along with Kenny Carr in exchange for Phil Hubbard, Paul Mokeski and future first and second round draft choices on February 16, 1982. A four-time NBA All-Star, Laimbeer was known as one of the nastiest members of the famed "Bad Boys" of the late 1980's that won back-to-back NBA Championships in 1989 and 1990. The Pistons' franchise leader in total rebounds (9,430), Laimbeer averaged 12.9 ppg, 9.7 rpg and 2.0 apg in 1,068 games during his 14-year NBA career with Cleveland and Detroit. In 113 playoff games with the Pistons, he averaged 12.0 ppg, 9.7 rpg and 1.7 apg. He was the NBA's leading rebounder in 1985-86 with 13.1 rpg. Laimbeer announced his retirement from the NBA on December 1, 1993. Recognized as one of the all-time best centers in franchise history, on February 4, 1995 he became one of six Pistons players to have their number retired.

A fierce competitor, Laimbeer finished his career with a 580-434 (.572) overall regular season record as a member of the Pistons. Preparing himself for an eventual coaching career, he was able to learn from Chuck Daly, the all-time winningest coach in Pistons history (467-271, .633, regular season and 71-42, .628, playoffs).

As a member of the Notre Dame Fighting Irish, he helped the squad to the Final Four in 1978 and was eliminated by the eventual National Champion Michigan State Spartans in the finals of the Mideast Region during his senior season of 1979. He graduated later that year with a degree in Economics.

During the offseason, Laimbeer took on studio broadcast responsibilities as a member of ESPN's NBA Shootaround and the 2003-04 NBA season was Laimbeer's third as Pistons television analyst, working alongside George Blaha for all UPN-50 telecasts.

A native of Boston, MA, Laimbeer's interests off the court include golfing and coaching girl's AAU basketball. He and his wife, Chris, have two teenage children, Eric and Kerriann.

Kristin Bernert
Vice President of Shock Operations

Kristin Bernert enters her third season with the Detroit Shock as vice president of operations. She is responsible for the coordination and results of all aspects of Shock business, including sales, marketing, community relations, public relations, and event operations. She serves as the point-person for Shock front office matters within Palace Sports & Entertainment and the WNBA. She also acts as the team spokesperson for all non-game related issues.

Bernert and her business staff played a key role in filling the seats at The Palace during the summer of 2003, as attendance improved over 35 percent from 2002.

Prior to joining the Shock, Bernert served in the corporate marketing department for the Cleveland Indians. This was her first entry into the professional sports arena after working in collegiate athletics at The Ohio State University (OSU) and Bowling Green State University (BGSU), respectively. As assistant athletic director for marketing and communications at BGSU, Bernert oversaw marketing, promotions, media relations, and ticket operations. She also handled all corporate sponsorships and university licensing matters. Bernert served as assistant marketing director for OSU Athletics after earning her Master's in sport management from OSU. While seeking her degree, she also worked as a graduate assistant in the athletic marketing department. A native of Stow, Ohio, Bernert graduated summa cum laude from Siena College in 1996. While at Siena, she played four years of collegiate basketball, earning first-team All-Academic Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference honors and the New York State Lottery Scholar-Athlete of the Year in her final two seasons. She currently sits on the Siena Athletics Advisory Board.

Laura Ramus Athletic Trainer/
Strength & Conditioning
Coach

Laura Ramus enters her seventh season with the Detroit

Shock as Certified Athletic Trainer/Strength & Conditioning Coach. Ramus came to the Shock with more than a decade of experience in athletic training and physical therapy. She is responsible for coordinating all athletic training, sports medicine and rehabilitation needs for Detroit's WNBA team. Ramus works in conjunction with Shock Team Physician Dr. Ben Paolucci and Team Orthopedic Surgeon Dr. Robert Teitge.

No stranger to the Motor City's professional sports scene, Ramus has worked with various members of the Lions and Red Wings and served as a trainer at the 1992 and 1993 Tigers Training Camps in Florida. Since 1994, Ramus has served as the Manager of Sports Medicine for St. John Hospital and Medical Center. In this position she oversees the operations of nine high school athletic training programs and all sports medicine rehabilitation. She has also made many presentations and has been published on such topics as women's health and prevention of knee injuries in the female athlete and has developed www.girlscanjump.com which performs outreach education and training programs for female athletes with emphasis on knee injury prevention throughout the USA. Ramus served as an athletic trainer at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta for the baseball, track & field and gymnastics competitions and worked at the 1994 World Swimming Championships in Malta, Italy with the U.S.'s Paralympic Team.

Prior to her employment with St. John, Ramus worked from 1990-1994 with Henry Ford Health System's Center for Athletic Medicine. In addition to working as a Clinical Specialist, Staff Physical Therapist and Athletic Trainer, she operated an athletic medicine mobile unit vehicle, wrote and produced educational videos and presented many symposia on sports medicine.

Ramus has held additional responsibilities as a volleyball coach, personal trainer, and home care physical therapist. She served as a varsity girls' volleyball coach at Warren, Houghton Lake and Bishop Gallagher High Schools and has prior associations from 1987 through 1990 with Michigan-based Gary Nederveld & Associates, Mercy Health Services North, Houghton Lake Physical Therapy and St. John Hospital Macomb Center.

Laurie Byrd Assistant Coach

Laurie Byrd enters her second season with the Detroit Shock as assistant coach. Byrd provided veteran leadership and insight that was key in helping the Shock become 2003 WNBA Champions. Byrd is involved with planning defensive strategies and player development, concentrating on guard development and perimeter play. She also heads up the Shock's offseason scouting efforts - Collegiate and Professional. A native of Flint, Michigan, Byrd served as an assistant coach to Anne Rexford with the University of Detroit Titans women's basketball team for the past three seasons. Her appointment as an assistant coach at the University of Detroit followed a stellar professional playing career in the American Basketball League, European Basketball League, and the Women's Basketball League. A four-year letter winner at Eastern Michigan University, Byrd still holds numerous school records, and in 1993 was inducted into EMU's Hall of Fame. Byrd shined as a prep athlete at Flint Hamady High School, scoring a single-game school record 41 points, as well as establishing herself as the school's all-time leading scorer. In February 2000, Byrd was inducted into the Greater Flint Afro-American Hall of Fame.

The entire Byrd family is gifted athletically, and all are involved at the professional level within their sport. Laurie's father Joe owns the Joe Byrd Boxing Academy in Flint, where her and Laurie's mother Rose coach and train amateur and professional fighters. Her brothers Joe, Timmy, Ronnie, Patrick, and Chris, as well as her sister Tracy all have fought at the amateur and professional levels in the boxing arena. Laurie's sister Kay is a runner and qualified for the 2003 Boston Marathon. In December, 2002 the Byrd family traveled to Atlantic City N.J. to watch Chris defeat Evander Holyfield in to claim the International Boxing Federation heavyweight title.

Byrd graduated in from the University of Detroit in May, 2003 with a Bachelor's degree in Human Services. Byrd is single and resides in Ferndale.

Korie Hlede Assistant Coach

Korie Hlede enters her second season with the Detroit Shock as assistant coach. Hlede provided veteran leadership and insight that was key in helping the Shock become 2003 WNBA Champions. Korie is involved with planning defensive strategies and player development, concentrating on guard development and perimeter play. Korie is also involved with scouting the Shock's upcoming opponents. Hlede was the Shock's first-ever college draft pick prior to the team's 1998 inaugural season and was traded to Utah on July 29th, 1999. As a member of the Utah Starzz Korie led the WNBA in 1999 in three-point field goal percentage, hitting 25-of-58 shots from long range (.453). She spent the 2002 WNBA season playing for the New York Liberty after being traded from Utah to New York on April 18th, 2002 for the 14th pick overall in the 2002 WNBA draft.

A native of Croatia, Hlede graduated from Duquesne University, where she holds records in career points (2,631), scoring average (24.1 ppg), steals (334), assists (570), three pointers made (162) and three point percentage (.356). Korie was also named to the Duquesne University Sports Hall of Fame on February 8th, 2003.

Korie has one brother, Svebor, 24, who still lives in Croatia. Her parents are Bojan Hlede and Lierka Milkovic-Hlede. Korie can write poetry in Croatian and English. Before coming to the United States, she learned about the country from watching TV shows. Korie lists her greatest accomplishment as graduating from college.

Matt Shepard Broadcaster

Matt Shepard enters his sixth season of broadcasting duties with the WNBA Detroit Shock. A familiar voice around the Detroit area for more than 12 years, Shepard will handle the radio and television duties for the team.

Shepard is a versatile radio and television veteran, who has won two Michigan Association of Broadcasters "Best Radio Sportscast" awards. He has worked with Fox Sports Net for seven years and worked on the Emmy-Award winning special "A Tribute to Tiger Stadium." He has also worked on numerous projects that range from Detroit Pistons pre-game, to Lions Weekly, to Detroit Tigers pre-game. He handles a host of other play-by-play duties including U-M Basketball, CCHA Hockey, as well as college and high school football and basketball. Shepard also serves as a sports anchor and talk show host for WDFN AM 1130 in Detroit and also calls football games for NFL Europe.

In addition to his broadcast duties, Shepard is an active member of the community on behalf of both the Shock and Pistons. A native of Michigan, Shepard continues to realize his life-long dream as a play-by-play announcer with his wife of 13 years, Lisa, and three active sons (Chad 12, Sean 9, Scott 6).

Joanne P. McCallie TV Color Analyst

Joining Shepard on all Fox Sports Net telecasts for her second season broadcasting the Shock is Michigan State University Women's Basketball Head Coach Joanne P. McCallie. After four years at MSU, McCallie is on track to turn MSU into an elite women's program after guiding the 2003-04 Spartans to a 22-9 overall record and its second straight NCAA Tournament appearance. McCallie, whose four-year record at MSU stands at 68-52, has a career record of 225-125 in 12 seasons as a head coach.

A native of Brunswick, Maine, McCallie arrived at MSU after spending eight years as the head coach at the University of Maine. McCallie, then Palombo, played her collegiate basketball at Northwestern from 1984-87. She graduated from Northwestern in 1987 with a degree in political science and earned a master's degree in business administration from Auburn in 1990. Joanne and her husband, John McCallie, Ph.D., have a nine-year-old daughter, Madeline (Maddie), and a three-year-old son, John Wyatt (Jack).

Matt Dery Broadcaster

Matt Dery enters his seventh season of broadcasting fill-in duties with the WNBA Detroit Shock and Palace Sports & Entertainment. Aside from his broadcasting duties with the Shock, Dery is also the radio voice of the University of Detroit Mercy Titans men's basketball on WDFN AM 1130 and WXDX AM 1310 and is the pre-game, half-time, and post-game host on the NBA Detroit Pistons Radio Network. Dery has worked with WDFN "The Fan" for the past seven years as the station's sports director and afternoon update anchor. Showcasing a well-rounded broadcasting resume, Dery's versatility includes fill-in play-by-play for Pistons radio and TV, AFL Detroit Fury radio, and IHL Detroit Vipers telecasts. He has also served as host for Michigan State University football games during the 2000 college season on the Spartan Radio Network and the first three years on the Motor City Bowl Radio Network.

Dery is a 1995 graduate of Syracuse University. A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Dery is married to wife Lisa. The couple has a three-year old son (Jace) and resides in metro Detroit.

Lisa Lisa Public Address Announcer

Lisa Lisa enters her seventh season as public address announcer for the WNBA's Detroit Shock and Palace Sports & Entertainment. If not court-side at a Shock home game calling all of the championship-caliber excitement, fans can find Lisa Lisa on the dial at 93.1 DRQ where the 19-year radio veteran began her career in the early 1980's. Lisa Lisa keeps the Motor City movin' every afternoon at DRQ, hosting the Afternoon Drive slot from 3-7 p.m. Lisa Lisa frequently features Shock player interviews, as well as the 4 Play at 4 Countdown, the Drive at Five, the Mini-Mix at 6 on Fridays, listener interaction, requests, and tons of fun to wrap up the day with the best mix of today's hit music!

A University of Michigan and University of Detroit Law School graduate, Lisa Lisa has a reputation for being tied into the vibe of the city as she can be found DJ'ing at various nightclubs or attending countless community events. Lisa Lisa is a native of Detroit and remains a resident in the metro Detroit community.

A.J. Parker PA Announcer

A.J. Parker, better known as the "Diva," is a 25-year radio veteran who has worked in various markets. She enters her first year as Shock Public Address Announcer. Parker brings her witty style to the "Mason in the Morning" show every weekday as she does news, traffic and weather reports. Parker is a dynamic public speaker. She has co-hosted nationally syndicated talk shows, Jerry Springer and the nightly Illinois State Lottery drawing on TV's Superstation WGN. "The Diva" can be heard Monday - Friday from 5 am - 10 am on 102.7 Kiss-FM.

2003 SEASON IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

WHEN SCORING 70+: Shock were unstoppable when scoring 70+

Shock regular season record when scoring 70+ points: 20-2

Shock playoff record when scoring 70+ points: 5-1

Shock regular season record when scoring less than 70 points: 5-7

Shock playoff record when scoring less than 70 points: 1-1

WORST TO FIRST: No team in any major sport since 1890 has gone from worst to first in the entire league

Only one other team in sports history has ever done what the Shock did in 2003...By beating Minnesota on 8/23 and Washington on 8/25 and clinching the best record in the WNBA, they were the first team in any major sport since 1890 to finish first in the entire league after finishing dead last in the entire league the previous season... Back in 1890, the Louisville Colonels of the American Association were 88-44 after going 27-111 in 1889...This was in baseball, and has not been done in any other sport.

CASH BROKE HER OWN SCORING RECORD: All-Star forward scored 548 points in 2003

Swin Cash has surpassed her own Shock single-season scoring record with 548 points in 33 games played in 2003...Here is a look:

Player	Year	Games in the Season	Points
1. Swin Cash	2003	34, (33 games played)	548
2. Swin Cash	2002	32	474
3. Wendy Palmer	2000	32	441
4. Sandy Brondello	1998	30	426
5. Sandy Brondello	1999	32	424
6. Korie Hilde	1998	30	382

EP "UNDERRATED": WNBA.com polls said Shock guard was amongst league's most underrated players

A WNBA.com fantasy poll rated Shock guard Elaine Powell as one of the most unrecognized or "underrated" players in the league...Powell averaged 9.0 points, 3.2 rebounds, 3.9 assists and 28.4 minutes in 33 games, all as a starter.

ELITE COMPANY: Detroit's 25th win of the season put them in an elite group of teams that have increased their win totals by double figures from one season to the next; here is a look:

Team	Year	W	Year	W	Diff.
Detroit *	2002	9	2003	25	+16

CLEANING THE GLASS: Shock rookie passed Catchings and Brown

Shock rookie forward Cheryl Ford grabbed 13 rebounds at Minnesota on 8/23, giving her 334 in 32 games in 2003...She surpassed Cindy Brown's Shock record (301 in 1998) and crushed the rookie rebound record set by Tamika Catchings in 2002 (276)...She also had her sights set on the league record for most rebounds in a season, but fell 24 rebounds short of breaking Yolanda Griffith's 2001 total of 357 rebounds...Here is a look at the all-time best rebounding seasons in the history of the league:

Player	Year	Reb
Griffith, Yolanda	2001	357
Williams, Natalie	2000	336
Ford, Cheryl	2003	334
Griffith, Yolanda	2000	331
Griffith, Yolanda	1999	329

MOST ROAD WINS IN FRANCHISE HISTORY: Shock won 12th on the road at Minnesota on 8/23

Detroit's 12 road wins in 2003 were the most in franchise history...The Shock won six at opposing arenas in 1998 and 1999...Detroit was 12-5 overall on the road in 2003; only Los Angeles (13-4), had a better road record.

DROP IT LIKE IT'S HOT: Detroit shot above 50.0% seven times this season

The Shock, led by forward Swin Cash shooting 9-12 FG at Phoenix on 8/13, shot 52.6% (30-57 FG) from the floor...This marked the seventh time in 2003 that Detroit shot over 50.0% from the floor as a team...Detroit did this only once in 2002 (52.6% FG) in a 85-80 loss at Minnesota on 7/1/02.

STELLAR DEFENSE: Shock brought it on both ends of the floor

Not only did Detroit finish in the top five in the league in field goal percentage (45.0%, first overall), points per game (75.1, first overall) and three-point field goal percentage (38.7%, first overall), but they also finished number two in opponent field goal percentage (holding the opposition to 39.9% FG), number four in opponent three-point field goal percentage (29.8%), number one in the league in drawing fouls (22.8 opponent PFs per game), number three in opponent assists (14.8 per contest, meaning other teams didn't move the ball as well against the Shock) and number four in opponent turnovers (14.6 per game).

2003 SEASON IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

EIGHT IS GREAT: Shock's franchise-best eight game streak tied for 5th longest winning streak in WNBA history. Before losing in the final minute, 68-65, to the Phoenix Mercury on 6/28, Detroit had beaten Connecticut (103-89 at The Palace on 6/5), 2002 Western Conference Finalist San Antonio (74-55 at SBC Center on 6/7), 2002 Eastern Conference Finalist Washington (93-56 at MCI Center on 6/14), 2002 WNBA Champion Los Angeles Sparks (87-78 in overtime at The Palace on 6/17), 2002 Eastern Conference Champion New York Liberty (88-83 at The Palace on 6/20), Connecticut again (82-73, on 6/22 at Mohegan Sun Arena), 2002 WNBA playoff participant Indiana Fever (68-60 at The Palace on 6/24) and New York again (75-69 at Madison Square Garden on 6/27)...Here is a look at where this year's Shock ranks on the all-time league and franchise list:

Most Wins In A Row in WNBA history:

Team	# of wins	Dates
Los Angeles	18	6/26/01-8/11/01
Los Angeles	18	8/9/02-6/14/03
Houston	15	6/27/98-7/30/98
Charlotte	9	7/31/01-6/3/02
Detroit	8	6/5/03-6/28/03
Cleveland	8	7/17/97-8/2/97
Utah	8	7/24/01-8/7/01

Longest Win Streaks in Shock Franchise History:

3	Mia., Wash., Char.	6/12-6/16	2001

ROOKIE REBOUNDING: Forward Cheryl Ford had best rookie rebounding average of all-time

Here is a look at the best rebounding rookie seasons ever:

All-Time Top Rebounding Rookies

Player	Team	Year	G	Reb	RPG
Cheryl Ford	Detroit	2003	32	334	10.4
Tamika Catchings	Indiana	2002	32	276	8.6
Wendy Palmer	Utah	1997	28	225	8.0

Tina Thompson	Houston	1997	28	184	6.6
Gwen Jackson	San Antonio	003	33	205	6.2

26 STRAIGHT: Detroit's different starting line-up vs. Houston on 8/8 breaks streak

Detroit's starting line-up of Swin Cash, Cheryl Ford, Ruth Riley, Deanna Nolan and Elaine Powell was broken up for the first time during 2003 on 8/8 vs. Houston (after 26 games) due to Nolan's left hamstring strain...The WNBA record for most games with the same starting line-up in the same season is Orlando (now Connecticut) when they started all 32 games with the same five players in 1999.

FOUR GAME-WINNING SHOTS: Nolan connected on third game-winning shot to beat New York; Riley had one also

All-Star Deanna Nolan hit her third game-winner the season vs. New York on 8/10...Earlier in 2003, she hit two game-winners in the same week: at Cleveland on 7/19 to give the Shock a 58-57 victory and at Indiana on 7/16 to win 70-68...She scored a game-high 26 points with four rebounds and three assists vs. New York on 8/10, in her first game back from a strained left hamstring...Nolan also connected on a Shock single-game record seven three pointers (7-10 3FG) vs. New York on 8/10...The previous record was six by Sandy Brondello at Utah in 2OT on 7/6/99...Ruth Riley hit a game winning shot at New York on 8/1 with three seconds remaining.

2003 REGULAR SEASON RECORD WHEN:

2003 PLAYOFFS IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

IF YOU WIN, THEY'LL COME:

Game three of the 2003 WNBA Finals' attendance of 22,076 broke the all-time playoffs and Finals mark of 19,563 set during Game 1 of the 2000 Finals. This number is also higher than any regular season game, making it the highest attended WNBA game in the league's seven-year history. The previous all-time attendance mark was 20,674 set by the Washington Mystics on four occasions, twice in 1998 and twice in 1999.

WNBA PLAYOFF ATTENDANCE:

22,076	Los Angeles at Detroit	Sept. 16, 2003
19,563	Houston at New York	Aug. 24, 2000
17,846	Los Angeles at Detroit	Sept. 14, 2003
17,666	Los Angeles at New York	Aug. 29, 2002
17,429	Charlotte at New York	Aug. 26, 2001

WNBA FINALS ATTENDANCE:

22,076	Los Angeles at Detroit	Sept. 16, 2003
17,846	Los Angeles at Detroit	Sept. 14, 2003
17,666	Los Angeles at New York	Aug. 29, 2002
17,113	Houston at New York	Aug. 2, 1999

NO HITTER: Forward Swin Cash threw out the first pitch at Comerica Park on 9/15. Swin Cash became the first Shock player ever to throw out the first pitch at a Detroit Tigers game as the Kansas City Royals took on the Tigers at Comerica Park on 9/15.

CASH DISHING IT OUT: Second-team All-WNBA forward led team in assists last four games. Swin Cash led Detroit in assists in the last four games and nearly became just the third player in WNBA history to record a triple-double with 13 points, 12 rebounds and nine assists in deciding game three of the WNBA Finals vs. Los Angeles on 9/16 (only Sheryl Swoopes, Houston and Margo Dydek, Utah have ever had triple-doubles in a WNBA game): six vs. Connecticut on 9/7, four at Los Angeles on 9/12, five vs. Los Angeles on 9/14 and nine vs. Los Angeles on 9/16...Note: Cash did not score in double figures for only the second time all season including playoffs on 9/14 (nine points)...She scored six at Indiana on 7/6.

TWO IN A ROW SNAPS EIGHT IN A ROW: Shock's second win in a row vs. L.A. at The Palace snaps eight game Western Conference win streak in Finals

Detroit's second win in a row at home against the Sparks on 9/14 (first one was on 6/17/03) marked Los Angeles' first loss ever in WNBA Finals play (previously 4-0) and also marked the end to the Western Conference's eight game WNBA Finals win streak...With Detroit winning the WNBA Title on 9/16, it also marks the Sparks third straight loss at The Palace (6/17/03, 9/14/03, 9/16/03)...The longest losing streak the Sparks have had at a particular venue is eight at Houston from 1997 to 1999.

DÉJÀ VU, SORT OF: Series reminiscent of Pistons vs. Lakers match-up of 1989

After the Los Angeles Lakers, with current Sparks head coach Michael Cooper, won back-to-back NBA championships in 1987 and 1988, the Detroit Pistons, with current Shock head coach Bill Laimbeer, prevented the Lakers from winning a third consecutive title by beating them in the 1989 NBA Finals...The Los Angeles Sparks had won two straight WNBA championships before the Detroit Shock could repeated what the Detroit Pistons did that year...Just like the Shock swept the Sparks 1-0 in the regular season series this year, the Pistons swept the Lakers 2-0 in the regular season series in 1988-89...The Lakers won a record 11 straight playoff games that season, sweeping Portland (3-0), Seattle (4-0) and Phoenix (4-0) before being swept by Detroit (4-0)...Laimbeer is the Pistons' all-time leader in rebounds (9,430) while Cooper ranks in the Lakers' top-ten in three-point field goals (378), games played (793), total minutes played (21,784), steals (966), blocked shots (487), assists (3,451) and free throw percentage (.829)...Cooper (five) and Laimbeer (two) combined for seven championships during their playing careers...Cooper has two as a coach with the Sparks and Laimbeer now has one as a coach with the Shock.

2003 PLAYOFFS IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

HUGE CROWDS RANK FIRST, SECOND AND SEVENTH BEST AT THE PALACE: Fans packing the seats for playoffs The Shock drew a Palace sell-out and all-time WNBA record crowd of 22,076 on 9/16...Detroit's crowd of 17,846 on Sunday, 9/14 at The Palace is a new record for a Shock crowd...The 13,635 spectators on Sunday, 9/7 at The Palace ranks sixth on the Shock's all-time list of biggest crowds at home...Here is a look:

22,076 vs. Los Angeles, 2003
17,846 vs. Los Angeles, 2003
16,246 vs. New York, 1998
15,574 vs. Charlotte, 1998
15,338 vs. Houston, 1998
14,181 vs. Los Angeles, 1998
13,635 vs. Connecticut, 2003

SETTING THE RECORDS STRAIGHT:

- The 83 points scored by Detroit on 9/16 is an all-time Finals high. The previous mark was 82 by Los Angeles vs. Charlotte on Sept. 1, 2001.
- The 161 total points by both team also breaks the Finals record. The previous high was 152 by Houston (79) vs. New York (73) in OT on Aug. 26, 2000.
- The 79 points scored by both teams in the first half (Detroit 42, LA 37) are the most ever in the Finals. The previous high was 74 by Charlotte (39) vs. LA (35), August 30, 2001.
- Los Angeles' Lisa Leslie, the all-time rebounding leader in Finals play, extended her total to 75. Tina Thompson is second with 62 boards.
- Leslie also solidified her second-place position in Finals scoring with 13 points tonight. Her 134 points trails only Cynthia Cooper's total of 214.
- In only her second Finals appearance, Nikki Teasley became the all-time assists leader in the Finals. She dished out 24 assists in the three games, vaulting her to first place with 46. Teresa Weatherspoon is second (43).
- Mwadi Mabika's 29 points tonight ties her for the second-highest game total all time with Cynthia Cooper, who did it twice (at Phoenix on Aug. 27, 1998, and at New York on Sept. 2, 1999).

FACTS ABOUT THE FINALS:

- Prior to 2003, only two teams had ever won the WNBA Championship (Los Angeles and Houston).
- Prior to 2003, one team from the Eastern Conference had ever won the WNBA Finals (the Houston Comets in 1997 represented the Eastern Conference before moving to the Western Conference in 1998).
- During the 1997 and 1998 WNBA Playoffs, the top teams were seeded and matched-up regardless of conference, that explains why two Western Conference teams (Houston and Phoenix) played each other in the 1998 WNBA Finals...Here is a look:

2003 Finals: Detroit vs. Los Angeles, 2-1
2002 Finals: Los Angeles defeated New York, 2-0
2001 Finals: Los Angeles defeated Charlotte, 2-0
2000 Finals: Houston defeated New York, 2-0
1999 Finals: Houston defeated New York, 2-1
1998 Finals: Houston defeated Phoenix, 2-1
1997 Finals: Houston defeated New York, 1-0

ON THE BOARDS: Shock tie WNBA Finals team rebound record

Detroit's 41 rebounds on 9/12 at Staples Center tied the WNBA Finals team rebound record (Phoenix had 41 vs. Houston on 8/27/98...Oh by the way, L.A.'s 39 boards on 9/12 is good enough for second on the list.

SHOCK TIMELINE

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

- 1997
11-11-97 Detroit is officially accepted into the WNBA.
- 1998
1-12-98 Detroit unveils the Shock nickname and logo and introduces Nancy Lieberman-Cline as franchise's first-ever general manager/head coach.
5-13-98 Shock fails to Charlotte, 78-69, as 15,574 fans support Detroit's first game in franchise history at The Palace of Auburn Hills.
6-21-98 Shock defeats the Washington Mystics in the nation's capital 70-57, recording the first win in franchise history.
8-19-98 Detroit closes out its highly successful inaugural season with 62-68 victory over the New York Liberty in front of a Palace season-high 15,246 Shock fans. Detroit's 17-13 record and .567 winning percentage marks the highest winning percentage by an expansion team in the history of professional sports, including WNBA/NBA, NFL, MLB and NHL.
- 1999
5-5-99 Shock General Manager/Head Coach Nancy Lieberman-Cline is inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in Knoxville, Tennessee.
7-6-99 Guard Sandy Brondello scores a franchise-high 33 points at Utah. Brondello hits a three-pointer at the buzzer to send the game into overtime and hits another three-pointer at the overtime buzzer to send the game into a second overtime as the Shock lose the highest scoring game in WNBA history 104-94 at Utah. Brondello broke nine Shock offensive records while the high scoring affair broke 24 overall records.
7-14-99 Guard Sandy Brondello scores a team tri-high eight points as the Eastern Conference All-Stars fell to the first-ever All-Star MVP Lisa Leslie and the Western Conference All-Stars 73-61 in front of a sold out Madison Square Garden (18,649). (Brondello was voted a WNBA Eastern Conference All-Star by the Eastern Conference coaches for the WNBA's inaugural All-Star game in New York City.)
7-23-99 Shock wins what would be its season-high fifth straight game, 69-60, at Cleveland's Gund arena. However, forward Rachael Sporn was lost for the season with a torn ACL and MCL in her right knee and forward Dominique Canty, forward Astou Ndoye and center Val Whiting were all suspended one game each for fighting. Cleveland forward Tracy Henderson was suspended two games for fighting.
7-29-99 Shock makes blockbuster trade with Utah Starzz, sending guard Kerrie Wade and forward Cindy Brown to Utah in exchange for forward Wendy Palmer and forward Olympia Scott-Richardson in the league's first-ever multi-player two-for-two trade.
8-2-99 Newly acquired forward Wendy Palmer scores her 1,000th career WNBA point versus the Washington Mystics.
8-21-99 Led by guard Jennifer Azzi's game-high 27 points, the Shock defeats the Orlando Miracle 74-69, clinching the franchise's first-ever WNBA playoff berth as the Eastern Conference's #2 seed.
8-24-99 The #2 seed Detroit Shock hosts the franchise's first-ever WNBA Playoff game at The Palace versus the visiting #3 seed Charlotte Sting. The Shock fell 80-54 in Round One of the 1999 WNBA Playoffs.
- 2000
5-17-00 Shock plays first-ever home preseason game at The Palace versus the Western Conference Phoenix Mercury.
5-18-00 Detroit sets numerous WNBA franchise and individual records in its 111-74 victory over 2000 expansion Indiana Fever at The Palace. For the WNBA, the Shock set new marks for most points in a game by a team (111), most points in a half by a team (58), and combined for most free throw attempts in a game (88) and most personal fouls in a game (70). Shock team records include new marks for most points in a game (111), most points in a half (58), largest margin of victory (37), highest field goal percentage (.593), most field goals (35), and most free throws made (40), most free throw attempts (54) and most steals (20).
6-28-00 Shock forward Wendy Palmer scores for a career-high 32 points versus 2000 expansion Seattle Storm at Key Arena helping Detroit to an 82-78 victory.
7-12-00 Wendy Palmer, for the first time in her WNBA career, is named to the 2000 WNBA All-Star team as a reserve.
7-21-00 After grabbing 12 rebounds in Detroit's heartbreaking 76-74 overtime loss to eventual league champion Houston at The Palace, Wendy Palmer becomes only the second player in WNBA history to record 750 rebounds.
9-20-00 Shock promotes Greg Williams to Head Coach/Director of Player Personnel, the franchise's second Head Coach in its four-year history.
- 2001
5-2-01 Shock fan favorites and 1998 inaugural season members Carla Boyd (Porter) and Rachael Sporn return to the Shock after taking the 2000 WNBA season off to train and participate for the 2000 Summer Olympic games. Boyd and Porter helped Team Australia win the silver medal in women's basketball team play competition, falling short to a WNBA-filled Team USA roster in the gold medal game.
5-6-01 Shock conducts its league-record 1,000th all-time community relations appearance when holding its first-ever "Neighborhood Dribble" throughout metro Detroit.
5-29-01 Shock registers its 50th all-time regular season win with a 75-71 home victory over Phoenix. This victory also marked the Shock's first-ever victory over the Mercury.
11-13-01 The Shock, finishing 2001 in a four-way tie with Indiana, Seattle and Washington at 10-22, lands the second overall pick in the 2002 WNBA Draft via the WNBA's first-ever Draft Lottery. Seattle wins the draft lottery and the coveted #1 overall pick, with Washington finishing third and Indiana fourth.
- 2002
2-7-02 Shock Head Coach/Director of Player Personnel Greg Williams names Frank Schneider head assistant coach. Schneider joins Williams and assistant coach Tom Cross on the bench for the 2002 WNBA season.
4-3-02 Shock announces color change to uniforms and logo to mirror NBA brethren Detroit Pistons traditional red, white and blue.
4-18-02 Palace Sports & Entertainment President and CEO Tom Wilson names Kristin Barnett Vice President of Shock Operations and former Detroit Piston Bill Laimbeer Shock Special Consultant.
5-21-02 Shock rookie forward Swin Cash visits the White House in recognition of the University of Connecticut women's basketball team's perfect 39-0 season and 2002 National Championship victory.
5-30-02 Shock celebrates fifth anniversary season by opening 2002 WNBA campaign at the Eastern Conference's Orlando Miracle.
6-9-02 Shock forward Wendy Palmer becomes just the fifth player in WNBA history to grab 1,000 rebounds for her career during a 70-63 loss to the New York Liberty at The Palace.
6-19-02 Shock relieves Head Coach Greg Williams of his duties and hires Bill Laimbeer as new Head Coach/Director of Player Personnel.
7-11-02 Forward Swin Cash receives the WNBA Community Assist Award for her outstanding community outreach during the month of June 2002.
7-27-02 Newly acquired point guard Elaine Powell falls just three rebounds and two assists shy of becoming only the third player in WNBA history to record a triple-double.
8-3-02 Swin Cash records 24 points and 14 rebounds against Cleveland for her seventh career double-double, already ranking her third on Detroit's all-time list.
8-6-02 Swin Cash sets a new Shock single-season scoring record by tallying 10 points against Charlotte. She finished the season with 474 points, 33 more than Wendy Palmer's previous record, set in 2000.
10-10-02 Palace Sports & Entertainment President and CEO Tom Wilson announces a recommitment and retires to the Detroit Shock, ensuring another season at The Palace.
10-17-02 Shock hires first natives Laurie Byrd and Pamela McGee as assistant coaches to replace Frank Schneider and Tom Cross.
- 2003
5-31-03 The Detroit Shock opens the regular season at The Palace with a 70-67 loss to the Charlotte Sting. Shock forward Swin Cash records her eighth career double-double with 18 points and 10 rebounds.
6-7-03 The Shock beats the San Antonio Silver Stars 74-55 to rise above .500 for the first time in 85 games.
6-14-03 Shock forward Swin Cash records a team-high 18 points and career-high six assists in a 93-56 win over the Washington Mystics, placing the Shock at the top of the Eastern Conference.

WNBA HISTORY

WNBA 1997 YEAR IN REVIEW

The Women's National Basketball Association made its debut on June 21, 1997 and enjoyed a very successful inaugural campaign. Eight teams, divided into two conferences, competed in the 1997 WNBA season. In the one-game playoff semifinal, Houston swatted down the Charlotte Sting 70-54 and New York cooled off the Phoenix Mercury 59-41 to set up a showdown of the Eastern Conference's top two teams in the one-game WNBA Championship. Led by 1997 league MVP Cynthia Cooper, Houston defeated New York 65-51 in the championship at The Summit to become the first-ever WNBA Champion.

Including the 1997 playoffs, the WNBA averaged 9,804 fans per game, amounting to more than one million fans over the entire season. Phoenix led the league in attendance, averaging 13,703 per game and Charlotte set the 1997 single-game attendance record versus Houston on August 16 when 18,937 fans converged upon the Coliseum to watch the Sting defeat the Comets.

WNBA 1998 YEAR IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

In 1998, attendance continued to soar during the WNBA's second season as the league welcomed expansion teams Washington and Detroit. League attendance increased by 12% in 1998 as over 1.6 million fans were entertained throughout the season. On June 19, Washington played host to the largest crowd in 1998 and in WNBA history as 20,674 fans filled the MCI Center to watch the Mystics battle the Starzz. Washington equaled the feat on July 21 when 20,674 fans watched Washington play the Charlotte Sting.

The 1998 playoffs were expanded into a best two out of three format. The semifinals saw the Phoenix Mercury outlast the regular season Eastern Conference champion Cleveland Rockers two games to one. Defending WNBA champion Houston swept the Charlotte Sting two games to zero in their semifinals matchup and Houston, led by 1998 league MVP Cynthia Cooper, successfully defended their title by defeating Phoenix two games to one in the 1998 WNBA Championship.

WNBA 1999 YEAR IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPION

In 1999, the WNBA concluded its third regular season by drawing 1,959,733 fans and setting a new attendance record for the league and women's professional team sports. The league averaged 10,207 fans per game and topped the four million mark in all-time attendance since the league's inaugural season in 1997. The league's two conferences expanded to six teams each as the WNBA welcomed expansion teams Minnesota and Orlando. The inaugural WNBA All-Star game was held in New York City as All-Star MVP Lisa Leslie led the Western Conference over the Eastern Conference 79-61 at a sold out, Madison Square Garden (18,649).

The 1999 WNBA Playoffs were expanded to three rounds and each conference regular season champion received a first round bye. Round One saw the #3 seed Charlotte Sting defeat the #2 seed Detroit Shock in a one game playoff in the Eastern Conference and saw the #2 seed Los Angeles Sparks defeat the #3 seed Sacramento Monarchs in a one game playoff in the Western Conference. The New York Liberty outlasted Charlotte 2-1 in the Eastern Conference Finals while the defending champion Houston Comets slipped by Los Angeles 2-1 in the Western Conference Finals. Houston was crowned three-time WNBA champions as they held off New York 2-1 in a memorable WNBA Championship.

WNBA 2000 YEAR IN REVIEW

2000 WNBA CHAMPIONS

In 2000, the WNBA eclipsed its own total attendance record for women's professional team sports, attracting over 2.5 million fans. More than 7,000,000 fans have attended WNBA games since the league's launch in 1997. The league's two conferences expanded to eight teams each as the WNBA welcomed expansion teams Indiana and Miami in the eastern conference, as well as Portland and Seattle in the western conference. The 2nd annual WNBA All-Star game was held in Phoenix as All-Star MVP Tina Thompson led the Western Conference over the Conference at a sold out America West Arena.

The 2000 WNBA Playoffs were three rounds and expanded to include four teams from each conference for a total of eight qualifying playoff teams. First Round action saw both #1 seeds sweep their #4 seed opponents as the eastern conference New York Liberty eliminated the Washington Mystics 2-0 and the western conference Los Angeles Sparks defeated the Phoenix Mercury 2-0. Both #2 seeds also advanced to their respective conference finals as the Cleveland Rockers held off the #3 seed Orlando Miracle 2-1 in the east and the defending champion Houston Comets pushed back the #3 seed Sacramento Monarchs 2-0 in the west. New York came back from a 0-1 deficit to defeat Cleveland 2-1 and claim the Eastern Conference Championship. Houston swept 2000 WNBA regular season champion Los Angeles 2-0 in winning their fourth consecutive Western Conference title and setting up a rematch with New York for the 2000 WNBA Championship. Houston marched to their fourth consecutive WNBA championship and remained the only champion the WNBA has ever had by defeating New York 2-0 for the 2000 WNBA Championship. The WNBA attracted record crowds during all three rounds of the 2000 Playoffs, including sell-outs of both games during the championship round.

WNBA 2001 YEAR IN REVIEW

2001 WNBA CHAMPIONS

In 2001, the WNBA concluded its fifth season by drawing 2,528,898 fans for the regular season and playoffs. The league averaged 9,075 fans per game. For the first time in the league's five-year history the WNBA did not expand and remained at 15 teams divided into two conferences. The third annual WNBA All-Star game was held in Orlando, Florida as All-Star MVP Lisa Leslie led the Western Conference over the Eastern Conference 80-72 at a sold out TD Waterhouse Centre (15,906).

The 2001 WNBA Playoffs were three rounds and were perhaps the league's most exciting postseason ever as four of the seven three-game playoff series reached the decisive third game. The Eastern Conference saw considerable parity as each of its three-game playoff series went the distance. Upstart Charlotte used a seven game regular season ending win streak as momentum towards their upset of the #1 seeded Cleveland Rockers. The Sting defeated the Rockers 2-1 in the First Round of Eastern Conference play. The #2 seed New York Liberty were pushed to three games by the #3 seed Miami Sol, but prevailed 2-1 and advanced to the Eastern Conference Finals for the fourth time in five years. Despite not having home court advantage for the second consecutive playoff series, Charlotte toppled New York 2-1 in the Eastern Conference Finals and advanced to its first-ever WNBA Championship Round.

First Round play in the Western Conference saw the brooms come out as #1 seed Los Angeles swept #4 seeded Houston 2-0 and #2 seed Sacramento swept #3 seed Utah 2-0. Los Angeles then outlasted Sacramento 2-1 to win the Western Conference Finals and advance to its first-ever WNBA Championship Round. The Sparks proved their regular season league-best 28-4 mark was no fluke as they swept the Sting 2-0 in the 2001 WNBA Championship Series, capturing their first-ever WNBA title. The WNBA broke its postseason attendance record when a crowd of 13,141 attended the last game of the league finals in Los Angeles. The 2001 WNBA Playoffs drew 205,734, up from last year's record of 199,936.

WNBA 2002 YEAR IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

In 2002, the WNBA concluded its sixth season by drawing 2,558,559 fans for the regular season and playoffs. The league averaged 9,372 fans per game. The fourth annual WNBA All-Star game was held in Washington D.C. as All-Star MVP Lisa Leslie led the Western Conference over the Eastern Conference 81-76 at a sold out MCI Center (19,487).

The 2002 WNBA Playoffs saw the Los Angeles Sparks successfully defend their WNBA title by sweeping through the entire postseason. The back-to-back champion Sparks began the 2002 WNBA Playoffs by sweeping the upstart Seattle Storm 2-0 in first round play. The Sparks kept the brooms out during the Western Conference Finals as they swept the Utah Starzz 2-0 in advancing to the 2002 WNBA Finals. Los Angeles captured their second consecutive league championship by defeating the Eastern Conference Champion New York Liberty 2-0 in an exciting 2002 WNBA Finals match-up.

New York earned the right to play the Sparks in the WNBA Finals by outlasting the Washington Mystics 2-1 in the Eastern Conference Finals. Washington advanced to the Eastern Conference Finals by eliminating the Charlotte Sting with a 2-0 series sweep in first round play. New York opened its first round play with a come-from-behind 2-1 series win over the Indiana Fever.

WNBA 2003 YEAR IN REVIEW

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

In 2003, the WNBA concluded its seventh season by breaking the league single-game attendance record in Detroit with 22,076 fans watching the Detroit Shock beat the Los Angeles Sparks 83-78 at The Palace on 9/16/03 while capturing the franchise's first ever WNBA title. The league averaged 8,826 fans per game after averaging 9,372 fans in 2002. The fifth annual WNBA All-Star game was held in New York City and Los Angeles' Nikki Teasley captured All-Star MVP honors as the West won 84-75. The Shock were represented by three new WNBA All-Stars, Swin Cash, Cheryl Ford and Deanna Nolan.

The 2003 Playoffs saw the story book Detroit Shock continue their winning (25-9, most wins ever for an Eastern Conference team during the regular season) and dispose of the Cleveland Rockers (2-1 in the first round), Connecticut Sun (2-0 in the conference finals) and the defending champion Los Angeles Sparks (2-1 in the WNBA Finals).

WNBA LEAGUE TRENDS

2003 WNBA CHAMPIONS

The Women's National Basketball Association has come a long way since its inaugural year of 1997. Eight teams made up two conferences with the best four overall records making the playoffs – a one-game elimination format. In 2003, many new faces emerged in a league that had previously been dominated by familiarity. Unless you were already a fan, you weren't really going to become a fan. Now, all of that is changing. Over the last year and looking ahead to 2004, the WNBA has become a showcase for fresh new talent, resulting in many new storylines for the league. Here is a breakdown of how the league looks different in the present and the future; a breakdown of how the WNBA is becoming a league of widespread talent that doesn't have to rely on two or three names anymore; a breakdown of how the league is looking more and more like a quality basketball product that true sports fans show interest in rather than just a chance for women to play hoops on a bigger stage:

In 2003, there were new winners of the MVP award (Lauren Jackson, Seattle), Coach of the Year Award (Bill Laimbeer, Detroit), WNBA Finals MVP (Ruth Riley, Detroit) and WNBA All-Star Game MVP (Nikki Teasley, Los Angeles).

Prior to 2003, there had only been two winners of the WNBA Finals MVP award in six years of the league (Cynthia Cooper in 1997, '98, '99, 2000 for Houston and Lisa Leslie in '01 and '02 for Los Angeles).

Prior to 2003, there had only been two winners of the WNBA All-Star Game MVP award (Lisa Leslie of Los Angeles in '99, '01 and '02 and Tina Thompson of Houston in '00).

Prior to 2003, only two teams had won the WNBA title, Houston ('97, '98, '99, '00) and Los Angeles ('01 and '02).

Prior to 2003, only four coaches had won WNBA Coach of the Year, with Van Chancellor of Houston taking it for the first three years of the league's existence.

Prior to 2003, a total of only five different players had averaged 20+ points in a season – in 2003, two players did it (Lauren Jackson, 21.2 points and Chamique Holdsclaw, 20.5 points).

Many experts agree that the 2004 WNBA Draft was the deepest college draft in history, with six to eight players expected to make an immediate impact on their new teams and a few others that are considered good prospects for the future.

The WNBA has evolved - it has become a league where every single team has players to watch and follow, players that grasp the fans' interest and are looked upon as superstars. There are more players than ever who can put up big numbers and lead their teams to exciting victories and storybook seasons. Bigger, faster, quicker, stronger women are making the game more and more exciting to watch and follow. The league has recognized the development and has implemented rule changes this season (The three-point line will be moved from 19' 9" to the international distance of 20' 6", and the lane will be widened from 12' to the NBA width of 16'. In addition, the 30-second shot clock will be reset to 20 seconds (as opposed to 30 seconds under the previous rule) when a defensive foul or other defensive violation occurs with less than 20 seconds remaining on the shot clock, and will be left unchanged when a defensive violation occurs with 20 seconds or more remaining on the shot clock). The changes in the rules and the changing faces atop league individual and team rankings only support the fact that the WNBA is quickly breaking away from the old and toward a new, never-before seen brand of women's basketball, featuring the top women's basketball players in the world.

2004 WNBA DRAFT

PHOENIX SELECTS TAURASI WITH TOP PICK IN 2004 WNBA DRAFT

SECAUCUS, N.J. April 17 - The Phoenix Mercury selected guard Diana Taurasi with the first overall pick in the 2004 WNBA Draft. Taurasi, a two-time Associated Press First Team All-American and two-time Naismith Player of the Year, averaged 15.0 points, 4.5 assists and 4.3 rebounds in her four year career at University of Connecticut. The Huskies captured three consecutive NCAA National Championships (2002, 03, 04) during her time at Storrs, and Taurasi was selected the Most Outstanding Player in the NCAA Final Four the past two seasons.

"I'm excited [about playing in Phoenix]," said Taurasi. "It's a lot closer to home than Connecticut is. My parents will get a better opportunity to go out there. I've always been good with adjusting to new situations and obviously it's a new city with new surroundings. I'm really excited. So everything that comes my way, I'm definitely going to enjoy it."

The Washington Mystics selected the 2004 Associated Press Player of the Year, Alana Beard of Duke University. Beard, a three-time AP First Team All-American was also the winner of the 2004 Wooden Award, Wade Trophy and United States Basketball Writers' Association Player of the Year. She averaged 19.7 points, 5.8 rebounds and 3.7 assists during her four year career as a Blue Devil.

Minnesota had two picks in the top seventh, selecting Kansas State center Nicole Olsch with the sixth overall pick, and Florida center Vanessa Hayden with the seventh overall pick.

Other first round picks included Stanford guard/forward Nicole Powell (third, Charlotte); Minnesota guard Lindsay Whalen (fourth, Connecticut); Arkansas guard/forward Sheneka Christon (fifth, New York); Houston guard/forward Chandi Jones (eighth, Phoenix); USC center Ebony Hoffman (ninth, Indiana); Georgetown forward Rebekkah Brunson (10th, Sacramento); Duke forward/center Ioss Tills (11th, Detroit); Georgia center Christi Thomas (12th, Los Angeles); Purdue forward Sheneka Wright (13th, Detroit).

Immediately following the draft, the Houston Comets traded the rights to Lindsay Taylor (13 pick in 2nd round) to Phoenix in exchange for the rights to Maria Villarreal (1st pick in 3rd round).

WNBA/SHOCK COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Palace Sports and Entertainment is dedicated to enriching the lives of our communities' youth and families through our unique resources, teamwork, and goodwill. The department also directs the Pistons-Palace Foundation, the organization's charitable vehicle that has donated grants to organizations that offer programs addressing issues of athletics, health and fitness, culture and arts, education, and personal and professional development.

Since the department's inception in 1989, the staff has developed and implemented programs that address specific community needs, especially those affecting youth. By providing opportunities for young people to build self-esteem, develop leadership skills, and learn the importance of cooperation, the Shock equip them with the skills needed to make the right choices and help ensure a better future for our youth, our community and our world.

The Detroit Shock reach out to fans of all ages in the community. In the seven years since the league began, Shock players and coaches have made over 1,500 community appearances and are active in both local and national community service initiatives.

DETROIT SHOCK READ TO ACHIEVE

Read to Achieve is a year-round, league-wide initiative that promotes the value of reading and online literacy and encourages adults to read regularly with young children. The Detroit Shock is committed to developing a life-long love of reading among children. Supported by Reading is Fundamental and Scholastic, Inc., The Detroit Shock Read to Achieve initiative promotes reading efforts through school and community appearances throughout the year. Shock players, coaches and All-Stars have taken time-out to share their love for reading with over 2,000 children throughout Southeastern Michigan during the first two years of the program. The Shock distribute gift bags to the students in attendance including books, t-shirts, game tickets, bookmarks and stickers to take home and share with their families.

THE DETROIT SHOCK ALL-STAR READING TEAM

Government officials, community leaders, school dignitaries, and members of the media join the entire Detroit Shock squad, coaches, family members and front office staff as members of the Detroit Shock All-Star Reading Team. Our stellar membership includes State of Michigan Governor Jennifer Granholm, Senator Debbie Stabenow, Detroit First Lady Carlita Kilpatrick, WXYZ Anchor Glenda Lewis, WDIV Anchor Rhonda Walker, WJRT-TV 12 Anchor Angie Shramski, Detroit Free Press Columnist Rochelle Riley, Kiss 102.7 FM Morning Announcer AJ Parker and many more.

SUMMER READING SEASON TIP-OFF

The Shock kicked off the 2003 season by celebrating Mother's Day with 200 girls from Flint, Bay City, Birch Run and Saginaw at the Birch Run Expo Center. The entire Detroit Shock Team, Head Coach Bill Laimbeer and Assistant Coach Laurie Byrd were joined by Shock Wave Dancers, Zap and several All-Star Reading Team Members to share stories about mothers and to help students make Mother's Day cards for students to take home.

READING TIME-OUTS

The Detroit Shock partnered with the Oakland County Animal Care Center for the second Reading Time-out of the 2003 season. The entire Shock team, coaches and All-Star Readers read animal-themed books with 300 children from Rochester-Avon Recreation Authority at the Rochester Municipal Park. Following the Reading Time-out, volunteers from the Oakland County Animal Care Center introduced animals from their shelter to the children and provided information about each animal.

The Detroit Shock participated in a Read to Achieve Reading Rally, while preparing for their first appearance in the 2003 WNBA Finals. The entire Shock team, coaches, Shock Wave dancers and Zap spent the afternoon with 300 students to celebrate their road to the championship series. In return, the Shock helped the students celebrate the road to literacy and the importance of reading.

WNBA MIND. BODY. SPIRIT.

The WNBA Mind. Body. Spirit. program is the league's primary cause-related campaign focusing on two main components - nutrition, exercise and positive self-image and breast health awareness. The platform focuses on the development and execution of events and programs that emphasize the importance of good nutrition, regular exercise and positive-self image and targets our youth fan base as well as their families.

DETROIT SHOCK STEPS TO SUCCESS TEEN FORUM

The Steps to Success program continues to provide young women an opportunity to discuss pressing issues with positive female role models in an open forum. The program emphasizes strategies for young women to use to make positive choices and incorporate a positive value system in their lives. The forums consist of approximately 100-200 young female teens discussing issues that are pertinent to success, and the social and economic barriers that may arise while realizing their goals. Shock players, metro Detroit community leaders, government officials and media personalities serve as panelists and moderators.

Steps to Success Forum's participants have included young women from Detroit Northern High School, Alternatives for Girls, Police Athletic League, Girl Scouts of Metro Detroit, Pontiac Central High School, Lighthouse of Oakland County and REACH Youth Program who participated in panel discussions. Over 600 young women have participated in Steps to Success Forums since the program was launched. The topics include: Setting and Reaching Goals, Women in the Workforce, Self-Image, Careers, and Time Management. Shock players, joined by media personalities and community leaders serve as panelists and moderators.

BREAST HEALTH AWARENESS

The WNBA and the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation have teamed up to help raise awareness and funds for the fight against breast cancer. The Breast Health Awareness program focuses on increasing public awareness about the importance of early detection of breast cancer through in-arena activities devoted to promoting Breast Health Awareness. The goal of these nights is to heighten local awareness, generate local media support and encourage fan involvement.

The centerpiece of the Breast Health Awareness program is a pink and white specially basketball specially created by the WNBA to symbolize the fight against cancer. Breast cancer survivors receive the pink and white ball during a ceremonial ball exchange as part of the in-game activities to promote Breast Health Awareness.

JR. NBA/JR. WNBA PRESENTED BY GATORADE AND NIKE

The Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA, presented by Gatorade and Nike, is a support organization for recreational youth basketball leagues in the United States, Canada and abroad that connects players, parents, coaches and officials to heighten awareness and participation in youth basketball. Jr. NBA/Jr. WNBA programs emphasize fundamental skill development, teamwork, sportsmanship and positive adult participation with the goal of providing a fun and rewarding youth basketball experience where young players can create a bond with the game while also learning what it takes to be successful away from the court. Detroit Shock players make numerous drop-in visits at local leagues and also participate in special Jr. NBA/ Jr. WNBA events nationally.

SHOCK STUDENT-FOR-A-DAY

Shock guard and Flint Native Deanna Nolan launched the Shock Student-for-A-Day program during the 2001-2002 WNBA off-season to emphasize the importance of education to students at all levels, by utilizing professional athletes as role models. This program enables Shock players to attend a partial school day with students and teachers, to share the value of education. Since the program was launched, Shock players have visited over 70 schools throughout southeastern Michigan to share their personal stories of success, and how education has played a critical role in achieving these successes.

SHOCK PLAYERS IN THE COMMUNITY

Shock players remain extremely active locally and nationally during the off-season months. Barb Farris and Merlakia Jones both served as the 2003-2004 off-season community relations' players, participating in many Pistons Read to Achieve Reading Time-outs, holiday events, public speaking engagements, school and community events and numerous clinics.

TROPHY TOUR

The Detroit Shock celebrated and shared the franchise's first-ever WNBA World Championship with girl's and women's basketball teams throughout Southeastern Michigan's. During the 2003-2004 off-season, Detroit Shock players and coaches toured the 2003 WNBA Championship trophy at high school and college women's basketball games, providing fans with photo and interview opportunities with Shock players and coaches.

SHOCKWAVE DANCERS

The Detroit Shock's ShockWave Dancers are one of the premier dance teams in the entire WNBA. This energetic, high-spirited interactive team entertains fans during the summer months of the Detroit Shock's WNBA seasons. Performing high-energy, urban, hip-hop routines, this coed group adds excitement and enthusiasm to every 2004 Shock home games played at The Palace of Auburn Hills.

The 23 member team consists of teens ages 10-19. Not only can the team be seen spirit leading on the sidelines of each game, this coed group has the unique quality of performing choreographed dance routines at timeouts and entertaining Shock fans with balloon animals and interactive court games and promotions. Now in their 8th WNBA season, interest in the "ShockWave" has grown tremendously over the state of Michigan.

As ambassadors of the Shock, the "ShockWave" can be seen throughout the community at charity events. The dancers join the Shock players, coaches, and business team to develop community programs and are passionate about impacting the lives for children throughout the Metro Detroit. These teens have become role models for all.

ZAP SHOCK MASCOT

Used to spending time in the outback of Australia, ZAP had a life changing moment in the spring of 1998. While resting among the aborigines, this wild dingo was mysteriously zapped up into the air by electrical shock waves and brought through electrical currents to The Palace of Auburn Hills. Not knowing what he would do, ZAP soon learned that he would be adopted by the WNBA's Detroit Shock as the team mascot and made his debut in the franchise's first game, June 13, 1998. Since then, ZAP has taken to the idea of entertaining fans and is entering his sixth year with the Shock.

Over 1,000 years old, ZAP performs at every Shock home game, while following in the organization's commitment to the community by performing at birthday parties, parades, and other public or private events in the community. Raised by tribesmen back in Australia, ZAP learned many magical powers while he spent his days and nights in the outback. And while the Shock hope to perform magic on the court, ZAP has vowed to put smiles on the faces of everyone he meets.

ZAP has had a busy five years with the Shock. He performed at the WNBA's inaugural 1999 All-Star game in New York, as well as the 2000 NBA All-Star weekend in Oakland, Calif., the 1999 NBA Hall of Fame Game in Hartford, Conn. and even earning a video clip at the 2000 ESPY Awards. During his tenure with the Shock, this dingo has performed with Tyra Banks, Kid Rock, and was even knocked out by Indiana Pacer guard Reggie Miller.

When not performing, ZAP enjoys hanging out with his Palace mascot friends, HOOPER of the Pistons and FRENZY of the Fury. His hobbies include watching the Crocodile Hunter, ESPN, the Discovery Channel and reruns of Captain Kangaroo. His favorite foods include shrimp-on-the-barbie, steak, nachos and popcorn.

ZAP enjoys being the official mascot for the Detroit Shock and wants to thank The Palace of Auburn Hills and the Shock for making him part of the family.
